Introduction:

She lives in Kurashiki City, Okayama prefecture. After completing Graduate School of Human Sciences at Kobe University in 1999, her artistic career as a painter has started. She searches connection between narrative and space through exploring representation of space using different techniques of painting. She had awarded a prize at Kurashiki Contemporary Art Biennale in 2005. She studied in Germany with the support of the 2nd Shuou Fund Scholarship Award from 2008 to 2009.

After returning to Japan, she had organized an international art exchange program “Encounters”, which meant new development of her artistic career as a curator/organiser.
